Recent Operations

By Paul Rardin

Two friends and I were having the second cup of coffee the other morning in a Pahokee café and a friendly argument ensued between them as to the amount of intelligence each possessed. One of them summed the whole thing up with the following statement: "As smart as you are and as dumb as I am, I'm still as smart as you are as dumb as I am."

Candidates! I had planned to count up and see just how many candidates there are in the gubernatorial race but so far I haven't had time. Anyway, one of them came through this week with a paid political advertisement and that's something. The major portion of them have been shooting ream after ream of publicity at us but most of it has been consigned to the bean hamper alongside the desk which serves as a waste paper basket. However, you're going to see some political advertising before long because each one of the candidates says in his letter that it won't be long before he will start placing some on a paid basis.

Racing terrapins. I've never seen a racing terrapin. I've seen a lot of terrapins in my time but not one of them was racing. In fact none seemed to be in any hurry at all. But, next Monday night I'm going to the American Legion hall in Belle Glade and see some real racing terrapins. They tell me that they're going to have nearly 100 in action there. At least it will be something different and maybe a fellow can become as interested in terrapin racing as he can in donkey base ball. That's different, too, you know.

At the Pahokee Rotary club yesterday Joe Tolle, who was in charge of the program, called on [illegible] V. C. Denton to tell [illegible] recent trips into the [illegible] B. [illegible] recently returned from Sidney, Ohio, and V. C. just got back from Detroit. The boys had interesting stories and the members of the club enjoyed them. Dr. W. J. Buck, president of the Belle Glade club, was one of the interested visitors present and talked for several minutes on the outlook for an honest-to-goodness Rotary club in Belle Glade. He thanked the Pahokee group for the interest they have shown in organizing a club in Belle Glade.

C. A. Bailey tried his best to get me interested in golf at the Mayaca course Sunday afternoon but I didn't take any chances. I'm scared of that game. I'm afraid if I learn to play I'll learn to like the game and then about the time I want to play a round or two somebody'll want to buy some printing. I can't see right now how it'll work out. Anyway, there was a dandy crowd up there Sunday and everybody had a big time. Eight mixed two-ball foursomes entered the tourney and the whole thing proved exciting and interesting. Except that you have to walk too far to suit me. I can't see why some sort of a small vehicle couldn't be perfected whereby one could ride from one shot to the next. Maybe I'd be a real golf fan then.

Have you seen the new highway construction going on in Canal Point? From the draw bridge north the contractor has raised the highway several feet. Some of the property owners and tennants are quite a bit upset over what is going to happen after the road is completed and there is no room left for cars to park in the business section. That is there won't be any room unless the car sets at an umpteenth degree angle.

With all the sunshine that we've been having during the past several days it won't be long until we will be hearing music that is sweet to everyone's ear in the Lake region—the hum of grading belts. Beans in large quantities will be coming in before many weeks and again the hum of the grading belts will mean payrolls and payrolls will mean better business for the merchants of the Glades area.

REPAIR AUDITORIUM

Work started this week on the repair of the Pahokee high school auditorium building. Cohen Blakley is in charge of the work. It is planned to have the repairs finished within the next two weeks.

CHAPEL PROGRAM

The next chapel program of the Pahokee high school will be held Friday, Jan. 24. Because of term end tests the usual chapel exercises were postponed this week.

BIRTHDAY BALL FOR PRESIDENT IN LEGION HALL

Night of January 30th To Be Gala Date on Lake Region Calendar

President Roosevelt's birthday, Thursday, January 30, will be a red letter day in the Lake region since a Birthday Ball is scheduled to be held in the American Legion pavilion in Pahokee. Paul Rickey and His Rhythm Boys will furnish the music for the evening's entertainment and Lake region people "will dance that others may walk." Proceeds from the dance will go into the fund to fight infantile paralysis.

The purpose of the Birthday Ball for the President is to create, through the direct help of the citizens of the United States, funds with which to help victims of infantile paralysis and support research efforts to wipe out the disease itself. Infantile paralysis again stalked through the land this year, adding thousands of new victims to the several hundred thousand already crippled. The need of continued effort in their behalf is greater than ever, and once more the call is made to fellow-countrymen to participate in this humanitarian work.

For eight years President Franklin D. Roosevelt as head of the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation has been the leader of this fight to combat the menace of infantile paralysis. For the past two years, under the direction of Colonel Henry L. Doherty, chairman of the national committee for the Birthday Ball for the President, the American public has generously responded to this movement to create funds with which to carry on the fight against infantile paralysis. In accepting Colonel Doherty's suggestion that he again loan his birthday as the occasion for the 1936 Birthday Ball, President Roosevelt said:

"It gives me much happiness to lend my next birthday, January 30th, to the national committee for the Birthday Ball for the President for this purpose, in the hope that this effort will bring us nearer to the goal of forever ending the tragic consequences of infantile paralysis.

"You know how greatly I appreciate all that you have done and are doing in this nation-wide fight. May I again express through you my gratitude to all those who are making my birthday the occasion for service in this humanitarian cause."

About one million dollars was raised through the 1934 Birthday Ball for the battle against infantile paralysis, and a slightly larger sum was obtained from similar celebrations last January. It is anticipated that the movement will again receive the same generous public support.

BEAUTY CONTEST AT PRINCE NEXT FRIDAY EVENING

Feminine pulchritude will parade before the footlights in the Prince theatre next Friday night, Jan. 24, at 8 p. m., according to an announcement made by Abe Dobrow, manager of the show house. Nearly 20 of the Glades' fairest will enter the contest and to date more than a dozen have already signified their intention of entering. Three beautiful prizes will be given to winners in the contest, it was stated.

The contest is being sponsored by merchant and business men of Pahokee. Those who will have entrants in the contest are: Kahn Department store, Arthur's, Butler's, B & B grocery, Blackmon's, Rifkin Dept. store, Pete's Restaurant, Pahokee Pharmacy, B. Elliott, Julia's Beauty Shop, Pahokee Dry Goods company, Denton's Hardware and the Glades club.

GOLF TOURNEY ATTRACTS MANY

In an effort to stimulate interest in the game officers of the Lake Okeechobee Golf club staged a tourney participated in by mixed two-ball foursomes Sunday on the new course. To say that interest was at a high pitch would be to put it mildly, an official of the club said.

More than 40 participated in the tourney and honors went to Jack Barret and Mrs. W. J. Jernigan on one team while they were tied by Dick Gibbens and Mrs. G. L. Sims on another team. The play-off is scheduled for next Sunday afternoon and a large gallery probably will be present to see the honors decided.

B. F. PATY
West Palm Beach

PATY WILL OPEN HIS CAMPAIGN ON JANUARY 23rd

West Palm Beach Man To Make First Campaign Talk

WEST PALM BEACH, Jan. 16—Beginning his active campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor, B. F. Paty of West Palm Beach will speak in that city the night of January 23, at 8:30, in Flagler park.

Pledging in his announcement, in the event of his election, the restoration of the administration of state government to a basis of fundamental integrity, Mr. Paty has been particularly emphatic in opposition to the two-job man practice of legislators of the state serving on executive payrolls.

Formerly a native of Tennessee, for eleven years he has practiced law in West Palm Beach, having served as president of the Palm Beach County Bar association during part of that time.

Being a member of the American Legion, a former chairman of the Florida State Racing commission, a property owner and tax payer of Palm Beach county, it is anticipated that a large and representative group of Palm Beach county citizens and visitors will attend the meeting next Thursday night, at which time Mr. Paty will make the first address of his campaign.

Prior to the speaking, there will be a band concert beginning at 7:30 and lasting for an hour.

"SAFETY FIRST" CAST IS ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cochran entertained the cast of the play, "Safety First," Wednesday night after the performance of the play, at their home.

York, Miss Ann Wood Branning, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Dulany and daughter, Gloria Jane, Miss Margaret York, Miss Laurie Gates, Miss Mary Love Tolle, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Willits, M. C. WORK PROGRESSES ON CONNER'S HIGHWAY

Work is progressing rapidly on construction work on Conner's highway from Canal Point north. The entire distance of more than six miles has been torn up and rerocked since work was started. This week work started at the draw bridge in Canal Point and proceeded north.

HAROLD ROSENBERG TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION AS POSTMASTER IN CANAL POINT, EFFECTIVE AT ONCE

Harold Rosenberg, postmaster at Canal Point, wired his resignation to the post office department Saturday and asked to be relieved of his duties as soon as possible. Mr. Rosenberg has accepted a position as secretary of the combined Pahokee and Pelican Lake drainage districts and will take up his new duties as soon as the post office department appoints some one to take his place. Offices for the combined districts will be located in Canal Point, Mr. Rosenberg stated, but the exact location has not yet been decided.

Mr. Rosenberg has served the patrons of the Canal Point post office faithfully and well and his many friends will regret to learn that he is no longer to be connected with the post office.

PAHOKEE TOWN OFFICIALS PLAN TO TURN ON NEW WHITE WAY SATURDAY

Present plans call for the new white way in Pahokee to be cut in tomorrow night, according to Pahokee town officials. Electricians have been busy this week wiring the system and everything will be in readiness Saturday night to illuminate the town with its new street lighting system.

Plans call for manufacture of electric current through use of the recently purchased Diesel engine equipment which is in operation in the new waterworks plant. Since installation of the Diesel equipment water plant officials have manufactured only enough electricity to operate the pumps in the plant. They state, however, that enough juice can be manufactured at a nominal cost to light the entire system and also pump the water.

Citizens of Pahokee are anxiously awaiting dusk tomorrow evening in order that they may see what effect the new white way will have on the looks of the town. Heretofore only seven street lights have been available to light the entire town and an additional 30 white way lamps will bring the town out of darkness.

TERRAPIN RACES START MONDAY IN BELLE GLADE

Have you ever seen a terrapin racing?

Something new and different in race track attractions will be presented in the American Legion hall in Belle Glade starting next Monday night when the Legion sponsors terrapin racing each night for an indefinite period. The races are entirely different from the ordinary terrapin derby. The terrapins are trained and run on a straight-away track 12 feet long. They are started much the same as horses start, according to C. C. Smith, who trained the crawlers. The track record is 10 seconds flat.

Mr. Smith had his trained terrapins in Chicago last summer and during the winter they raced at New Orleans. Mr. Smith is bringing nearly 100 of the crawlers to Belle Glade and the first race is scheduled for 8 p. m., Monday night.

PRINTER "LINGO" IS EXPLAINED

For those who do not understand the special brand of language printers speak, "Jiggs" of the Tarpon Springs Leader, has worked out the following explanation:

Comic Strip—The boss trying to get into last year's bathing suit.

Forms—A scuttle full of typographical errors wrapped up in some steel chases.

Chases—What the leg lads run around trying to fill with ads and news.

News—The stuff put in the paper to keep the ads from rubbing together and chipping their corners often.

Putting The Baby to Bed—Dumping the stuff on the press. Generally accompanied by a prayer said in reserve.

Thirty—End of everything. Thirty to one there'll be thirty errors in ads.

Errors—Parasites too small to be seen by the human eye which crawl into the forms as the baby is being put to bed and multiply and enlarge rapidly until, encouraged by the hum of the presses, they reach a prodigious size, which, sometimes after the presses have stopped, can be seen a mile with the naked eye.

Make Up—Cold cream, vanishing cream, lipstick, rouge, and other things generally found in an up-to-date print shop.

Make Up Rule—Use the right shade for that ravishing look.

Slugs—What the type casting machines shoot at the operator.

Brass Rule—Opposite of golden rule.

Shooting Stick—Used to shoot the slugs into a lockup. (Now a bit dodoish.)

Loan Association Has A Good Year

Belle Glade Organization Elected Officers In Meeting Wed.

Shareholders of the Everglades Federal Savings and Loan association of Belle Glade held their annual meeting on Wednesday of this week and transacted business in connection with the ending of another successful year's existence. W. R. Hooker, L. C. Betzner and Hugh J. Bratley, retiring directors, were re-elected for a term of three years. The directors re-elected the following officers: C. E. Riedel, president: W. R. Hooker, vice president; L. C. Betzner, vice president; Hugh J. Bratley, secretary and treasurer and H. D. Beck, attorney.

The organization has shown a steady, healthy growth and people in the Lake region are showing a growing confidence in the association since they are fast learning that their savings are fully protected up to $5,000. A two percent semi-annual dividend was spread and checks are in the mails today, the secretary, Mr. Bratley, stated. This dividend brings the total to four per cent for the year.

The association has been serving the people of the Lake region for several years and has shown a steady growth and each year serves more customers. To those who do not fully understand the workings of the organization the officers extend a cordial invitation to visit the office in Belle Glade for full particulars.

ENGINEERS OKEH $323,000,000 WORKS

Expenditure of more than $323,000,000 on rivers and harbors and flood control projects in virtually every section of the country during the 1937 fiscal year was recommended Saturday in the annual report of the chief of army engineers in Washington.

Major General Edward M. Markham, head of the engineer corps, estimated that $251,110,889 for waterways improvements, and $31,566,309 for flood control work, could be "profitably expended" during the fiscal period beginning July 1. An additional $41,000,000 would be required for maintenance.

The total proposed sum compares with $201,340,177 actually spent for these purposes in the fiscal year which closed June 30, 1935.

The chief engineers said $1,034,000 can be used profitably in 1937 in the St. Johns river, Jacksonville to the ocean.

Other important recommendations were:

Caloosahatchee River and Lake Okeechobee Drainage Areas—$1,862,000 for new work and $132,000 for maintenance.

Hollywood Harbor (Port Everglades)—$1,134,000 for dredging to widen and deepen the entrance channel and the turning basin.

Fort Pierce Harbor—$260,000, for dredging to widen and deepen turning basin and channel entrance, and for maintenance.

Lake Worth Inlet—$488,000, for dredging required to complete the 20-foot project, the widening of the channel across Lake Worth, and enlargement of the turning basin, and for maintenance.

Miami Harbor (Biscayne Bay)—Under a heading "proposed operations," the report said: "No funds are available and no operations are proposed during the fiscal years 1936 and 1937."

Intracoastal Waterway Miami to Florida Bay—$130,000.

Tampa Harbor—$322,000 new work and $125,000 maintenance, the new work to include dredging to complete Egmont relocation channel and Mullet Key cut.

Lake City, Fla.—Columbia county farmers sold 4,321 pounds of turkeys at two sales last month for a total of $864.40, County Agent Guy Cox reports.

Belle Glade Man Is Convicted In Trickery Theft

Peter Bussart, of Belle Glade, was found guilty early Wednesday night by a jury in criminal court in West Palm Beach of grand larceny by trickery, the charge growing out of an alleged racket of "fixing" a theatre drawing at the Prince theatre last September 19. It was brought out in trial that Bussart manipulated the drawing of capsules and caused Virgil Bishop to receive $175, which was later divided between them.

The case was given the jury late in the afternoon after Bussart had been described by County Solicitor W. E. Roebuck as being the "brains" of a theatre drawing racket in the Glades. Morris Lamb, charged with Bussart, and Virgil Bishop, whose name was substituted for the name drawn, according to the state's attorney, testified for the state, Lamb turning state's evidence.

At the opening of the case Attorney Baynes asked for a bill of particulars and submitted authorities in support of his motion. At the opening of the case after the noon recess, County Solicitor Roebuck filed a new information charging grand larceny of $175 from A. Dobrow and H. Gold, who operate the Belle Glade and Pahokee theatres interested in the weekly feature, and added the allegation of trickery.

BISHOP BECOMES ROTARY MEMBER

E. E. Bishop, principal of Pahokee high school, was accepted as a member in the Pahokee Rotary club at the noon luncheon held yesterday. B. Joe Tolle was in charge of the program and presented B. Elliott and V. C. Denton, who related their experiences in the north on visits made within the past few days. Mr. Elliott just recently returned from Sidney, Ohio, and Mr. Denton is back from a trip to Detroit. Both gentlemen related interesting experiences in the land of ice and snow.

Dr. William J. Buck, president of the newly formed Belle Glade Rotary club, was a visitor and spoke briefly on the plans made for the Belle Glade club. He also thanked members of the Pahokee club for their interest shown in organizing the Belle Glade club.

Reynolds Allen, of Salem, Oregon, and Mr. Burdette of Miami were visitors.

PETER TOMASELLO, Jr.
Orlando

TOMASELLO IS CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Former Okeechobee Man Tosses Hat Into Ring With Others

Peter Tomasello, Jr., of Orlando, speaker of the Florida House of Representatives in the 1933 legislature and a member of the House in the sessions of 1929 and 1931, today announced his candidacy for governor of Florida, subject to the Democratic primaries in June.

A native of Florida, Mr. Thomasello was born in Santa Roa county in 1900 and was educated in the public schools of that county. He is the son of Peter Tomasello, Sr., who at the time of his retirement from active business in 1932 was the oldest lumber operator in the state. His mother, Mrs. Eulalia Chapman Terry Tomasello, of Columbus, Ga., was the daughter and sister of a Confederate veteran.

Beginning his political career as a candidate for the Florida House of Representatives from Okeechobee county, Mr. Thomasello was elected to that office in the 1928 primaries. In 1930, he ran for re-election, winning in the first primary and he repeated this achievement in 1932. He is one of two men ever to be elected Speaker of the House of Representatives without opposition. The other is Chief Justice Fred H. Davis, of the Florida supreme court.

A friend and champion of the public schools throughout his career in office, Mr. Thomasello was co-author of the first practical plan for the distribution of state aid to the public school system and was the first to advance the plan that the financing of the operation of the schools is the responsibility of the state government.

STARLING VISITS CONVENTION OF COMMISSION MEN

Belle Glade Man Is Upper Glades Delegate To Baltimore

N. N. Starling, of Belle Glade, has recently returned from Baltimore where he acted as upper Everglades delegate to the Legion of Commission Merchants convention which was in session in that city from January 7-10. Mr. Starling reports the convention well attended. Representatives from the better class of trade from all sections of the United States were present and took an active part in proceedings. Economic conditions and tendencies were analyzed and ways and means for augmenting a rapid recovery of general business conditions were discussed in their various ramifications.

Mr. Starling states that the general sentiment of the delegates was against the AAA and other alphabetical organizations for the regimentation of production. He thinks that a limitation of acreage would not be opposed; but the opposition to limitation of production per acre was unqualified and universal since the yield per acre cannot be controlled with any degree of accuracy or success except in a limited way. The grower is, after all, at the mercy of the elements or weather conditions, no difference how experienced and skillful he may be. The decision of the supreme court that the AAA was unconstitutional was received by the convention with rousing cheers, every delegate on his feet, and much pleasure was expressed that the people had this great tribunal to safeguard the rights of the American citizens.

On his return, Mr. Starling was joined in Waycross, Ga., by Mrs. Starling and his mother, Mrs. W. H. Starling, who had been visiting at that point. They visited the hamper mill at Callahan, Fla., some 20 miles north of Jacksonville, in which Mr. Starling is interested and found the veneer of which bean hampers are to be made being produced in sufficient quantities to supply the hamper factory at Chosen with materials as rapidly as they are needed to take care of the crops now maturing.

Mr. Starling and his brother, E. H. Starling, also made a trip to Clermont to look after business interests and visited the farming tract on Lake Istokpoga which is being cleared and put into condition for a spring crop under the supervision of Harry Terry.

Everywhere he found that the general trade was pleased at the decision against the AAA. Potato growers with whom he came in contact were also universally pleased.

Mr. and Mrs. Starling left the last of the week for a ten days' trip to Memphis to visit their son, Quentin, and look after business interests at that and intervening points.

FISH AND FOWL

Starting with two exact specimens, the old saying is that you can't make fish of the one and fowl of the other.

In fact, that is what the supreme court held in the AAA case, indicating that a decrepit mill had as much right for relief as a decrepit farm.

It appears, however, that both Democrats and Republicans in congress join hands on the moral aspects of continuing AAA payments to those farmers with whom the government had contracts, terminated by the recent decision, but nevertheless contracts fulfilled as far as the farmers are concerned but not discharged by government.

In other words, the farmers carried out their part of the contracts but the Federal governmet was stopped from doing its part by one of the three branches of Federal government.

Certainly there can be no legal obligation for the government to pay out these many millions of dollars.

On the other hand, not much attention has been given so far to processors and manufacturers whose unlawful tax money has been impounded awaiting the high court's decision. These is a moral obligation to give that early attention, and there also is a legal obligation to return it.

There is, in fact, a moral and legal obligation for the return of the entire billion or so to the source from which it was collected, an impossibility where the tax was passed on to customers. The entire AAA experiment cost the American people something short of two billions.—Palm Beach Times.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay.

Whew! Wait a minute folks 'till I stop and mop my fevered brow! If you think these here candidates aren't plenty serious, you just ought to sit around my office for an hour or two and listen to 'em "get me told." It seems that no matter what I say it's wrong.

However, one of 'em paid me a swell compliment, although he wasn't tryin' to do it at the time. He said my fool column was nothin' but a lot of a certain particular kind of nonsense. And you know that's just what I've been tryin' to make it all along. Of course now and then a little horse-sense may slip in, but generally speakin' I never intend it to be taken too seriously.

We've got plenty of smart guys like Brisbane, Babson and others feedin' you keep stuff, without a poor dumb country boy like me tryin' to burden you with any serious thought food.

Three candidates for governor came rompin' in my office this week snarlin' an' showin' their teeth because I said this or that about somebody else an' didn't say such an' such about them. All of 'em accused me of bein' a paid hireling of some candidate but the funny part of it is they all charged me with supportin' a different man. I'm tellin' you it's a hard life.

As far as me supportin' anybody in particular, I got about all I can do supportin' a wife and kid plus a couple of domestic animals, without burdenin' myself with tryin' to carry a flock of politicians on my shoulder. Of course I'll admit I've been carryin' a lot of 'em on my books, but that's just because I've got a kind heart or weak mind or somethin'. To hear some of these guys talk you'd think I was Mr. Hercules.

Last week I stated that Mr. Colin English of Ocala had a pleasant personality and seemed to be kickin' up some dust in the race for superintendent of public instruction, but the ink ain't dry before Mr. Claude C. Jones of Arcadia, comes along with a dust storm that liked to choked me to death an' after listenin' to Claude for an hour and a half I would certainly be an unappreciative audience if I didn't lower the odds to where he can be classed as a favorite. But I've still got Bill Cates, Buchholz and Cawthorne to hear from—so what?

And I don't know what it is about the state treasurer's job that makes it so attractive but it seems that the busy bodies who go 'round urgin' others to run for this or that office have certainly fired a lot of birds with ambition and in consequence Mr. Lancaster, Mr. Baldwin, Mr. Getzen and maybe Moore have answered "Why Knott?" Now I might express the opinion that Mr. Lancaster was out in front, or that Cyril Baldwin was leadin' somebody by a nose, but you would probably reply "I think KNOTT" and that would bring no MOORE talk, so quit botherin' me an' do your own crystal gazin.'

Now comes Dan Chappell of Miami with the announcement that he is REALLY gonna run for governor and please could I say somethin' about him in my column. Now Dan is a nice guy and I like him and all that, but if I were to employ even one little adjective in connection with his name that might be construed as favorable by any one or all of the other 763 candidates, I'd have a war on my hands that would make Mr. Selassie's look like a friendly debate, so while Dan will be "heard from" I guess I'll have to let him do his own talkin'.

An' I hear that Mr. Turner Butler has took his hat out of the ring and is wearin' it again so you can "scratch" him, but it won't leave any deficit in the grand total of candidates as the little bird that goes 'round tellin' things states that Gabby Knowles will go to the post while Treadway and Carlton are still considered among the possibilities. In the meantime, the Ethiopian Horse has yet to announce.

And in closin'—may I again remark that while I may be in the Lion's Den, I ain't no Daniel, and I'm not havin' any better luck with what the handwritin' says than Mr. Belshazzar had. The third word on the left looks to me like "Hodges" but a guy across the table says it's "Hooey"—so you'll have to do your own interpretin'. Now may I be excused?

FLORIDA FOR ROOSEVELT

The Jackson Day dinners in Florida serve to prove that the shock troops are standing fast to Roosevelt and, therefore, if a drive is to be made against a pledged Roosevelt delegation to the next national Democratic convention, it will have to be far more potent than any in the offing.

The Jackson meetings as reported in the state press indicate by the names of those attending and taking part that President Roosevelt will not lack for yeomen to man the polls and to perform all the functions needed to impress upon a majority of the voters the names of delegates pledged to his nomination.

In Florida names of delegates to the national convention are listed alphabetically on the ballot. The first name, Adam Abbott, may be that of an Al Smith man. The second, Bertram Adams, may be a Roosevelt man. The third, Arthur Bosco, may be an unpledged candidate for delegate. There is no way for the voter to know how these delegates will represent him except by memory. The secret of success, therefore, rests in having enough workers to man the 1,200 precincts and remind each voter of the desired names with slip, card or banner just as he enters the polling place.

It would take a lot of money and a great deal of organization work to offset the kind of build-up that President Roosevelt will have for nothing. The working Democrats of Florida are proof against anythinng but a Huey Long campaign, and he is dead. In view of the developments of the last few weeks we see no possibility of Roosevelt being defeated in Florida in the primary and certainly not in the general election.—Miami Herald.

JOLLY OLD TIME

According to a news yarn, arm waving, baby kissing and good old-fashioned back-slapping, is going to win the next governor of Florida his right to live in the white house up Tallahassee way. Fresh as an ocean breeze, crisp as a fresh-fried potato chip, the Tampa Tribune sets forth just how the candidate who will win is going to gather in the sheaves. To date, it declares, there are no special issues.

But to date is not June. There may be issues. A couple of candidates have indicated issues. In fact the gentleman from North Florida, Fred Cone, has several issues, if they may be called that. One of them has a pleasing ring to the ears of the taxpayer and that is cut expenses to balance the budget rather than increase taxes to balance the budget. It'll take considerable baby-kissing to overcome that. Then too, there is the stand against two-job legislators. Whether or not that issue will carry much weight up and down the peninsular state remains to be seen.

People in general don't take much stock in some political or campaign issues which have to do with jobs because they know that no politician ever went into office without a desire to hand out as many jobs as possible. And the records vividly show following each election that too much confidence cannot be placed in campaign assertions. Somehow or other a politician usually has an awfully short memory.

It may be that, as the Tribune reports, there are, and will be no issues, it'll merely be a matter of baby-kissing, hand-shaking and back-slapping; and if so, maybe after all we'll get the best man in Tallahassee on that kind of a program. And if so, let's keep him hand-shaking and back-slapping, it may tend to keep his hands busy and out of the taxpayers' pockets. —Plant City Courier.

KNOTT IN RACE FOR TREASURER

Statement Stops Talk That He Won't Seek Re-election

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 16 —(FNS)—Rumors to the effect that State Treasurer W. V. Knott would not be a candidate to succeed himself, in spite of the fact that he made such intentions known last summer, were put to a stop today with the following statement given to the Florida News Service by Mr. Knott.

"Shortly after the adjournment of the 1935 legislature" Mr. Knott said, "I made a formal announcement through the press of the state that I would be a candidate for re-election this year. This was done at the time to dispel any question as to my itentions.

"It was not my purpose to precipitate a long, tiresome and expensive campaign, in making my announcement that far in advance of the primaries, and up to this time I have not been especially active in my campaign.

"Now that one gentleman has announced his candidacy for the office of state treasurer and two others have indicated to me that it is their intention to do so, I shall begin an active campaign for renomination and re-election, just as early as the pressure of official duties will permit.

Former Candidate Is Again In Race

Stafford Caldwell, of Miami, this week announced his candidacy for governor, subject to the will of the voting in the Democratic primary in June. His announcement in part follows:

For several years I have received from citizens throughout the state commendation of the program I presented to the people of Florida in the campaign of 1932. Coupled with this has been encouragement from former supporters and from Democrats who did not support me before, to make the race for governor in 1936. This commendation and encouragement has been so widespread that I have come to the conclusion that my candidacy would receive wide support.

In response to this encouragement, I am making the following statement, which I will follow by definite presentation of policies and platform at a later date.

I have decided to run again for governor of the state of Florida. I will present myself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination in the June primaries of this year.

The governmental needs of the state of Florida impress me as presenting, even more so than in 1932, a real opportunity for services which I humbly and confidently believe I can render.

As one who was born and reared in north and west Florida, and as one who joined in the pioneering and development of south Florida, I feel that this state needs, more than ever before, an administration that will accentuate an All-Florida solidarity and cooperative purpose so that all sections will be for the state and the state will be for all sections, through which unity of civic effort the advancement of the state can be accelerated.

I present myself as that All-Florida candidate.

DAN CHAPPELL IS ASPIRANT TO GOVERNOR JOB

Anti-Sholtz Member Of Last Session Enters Race

MIAMI, Jan. 15—Dan Chappell, of Miami, three times member of the house of representatives, leader of the minority group in its fight against the Sholtz administration during the last session of the legislature, last night formally announced his candidacy for governor.

"Having been born in Georgia and raised in Florida, I am Cracker enough to know nothing of the art of fence straddling or dodging issues," Chappell said in making his announcement, "and for that reason I expect to win by meeting every issue fairly and squarely and not by meaningless oratory or promiscuous promises."

Declaring "we must get back to the fundamental principles of government our forefathers taught us," Chappell said, "there must be less of political profiteering and squandering of public money and more of fair consideration for the rights of the citizens and taxpayer."

He charged Florida's cost of government is greater per capita than any southern state east of the Mississippi, and promised that as governor he would seek to reduce the present $35,000,000 state tax income sufficiently to provide adequately and dependably for schools to assure a full term in every county, better pay for teachers, pensions for the aged and other important needs.

"My travels over the state impressed me with one outstanding fact—the people are aroused to a high degree of righteous indignation over the iniquities and extravagances of the Sholtz administration, which I denounced over statewide radio and on the floor of the house as leader of the minority in the last session. They are bitterly opposed to the employment of legislators by the governor to control legislation," the candidate said.

WILL SET BUDGET

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 16—With 310 miles of highway improved and 30 bridges constructed during the year of 1935, the state road department will tentatively set its 1936 budget at a meeting to be held here January 27.

Indications are that the department will have 7,000 miles of hard-surfaced and graded road under its supervision by the end of 1936. Tentative prospects, to be definitely outlined later, call for construction of 65 miles of road and retreatment of 60 miles during the year.
